

A Haunted Heart

For 18+ Readers No one chooses tragedyits thrown at you at the most unexpected time. Lifeloveripped away as if it never existed in a single instant. That happened to me one Halloween nightmy life was shattered and I was left an abandoned empty vesselfloating through the days and nights with hopes of feeling someday. A year later, Adam Stroud walked down the sidewalk and in a single instant life changed again. He too had been dealt a horrible hand of fate and for the first time in a year, I saw a glimpse of life. For almost two months, I allowed myself to live. Learning to love and bloom. Little did I know Id be betrayed and lied to by the few I trusted most. And now...lying cold and naked in the dirt hole, I promised myself if given the opportunity againId live.
