

Dreamscapes: This Time Forever

Hed waited a lifetime for her. Liz Brooks felt like a swimmer caught in a powerful undertow. One minute she was an ordinary businesswoman. The next she was swept into the past. How could she not feel out of her depth, finding herself in another womans body, thinking another womans thoughts, consumed with hunger for another womans man? She needed answers ... desperately. Dr. Matthew Lockwood was just the man. For many, he had opened doors to the past. But with Liz he struggled to maintain a distance. He could help her, yes -- but not because of his professional skills. Matthew knew intimately who shed been -- and loved passionately who she was. But would he be able to keep her this time, forever?
