

Ariella Geller is on the run from some very bad people and Liam Wade doesn't know what he's running from. Freedom has been an elusive dream for Ari, but when her chance for escape comes, she takes it. She finds herself in California and forced to accept help from strangers in order to stay off the streets and avoid being found by those she ran from. Liam Wade is sick of living in the shadow of his famous father. All he wants is to make a name for himself as a professional surfer, but it's impossible when the media focuses on every other aspect of his life. All he wants is respect, a chance to prove himself, but when it never comes he finds himself running and hiding from the ones who love him the most. When their paths collide Ari and Liam are forced to confront their demons, and in the process they just might find a reason to stop running.
