

The Pathway of Life, Vol. 2 (Classic Reprint)

Sins, errors and superstitions obstruct a mans soul and hide it from himself. In order to reveal his soul to himself, man must make an effort of consciousness, and therefore in such efforts of consciousness is the principal task of a mans life. I. Deliverance From Sins, Errors and Superstition is in Effort 1. Self-renunciation delivers men from sins, humility from errors, truthfulness from superstitions. But in order to renounce the passions of the body, to humble himself before the errors of pride, and in order to examine in the light of reason the superstitions which enmesh him, man must make efforts. Only by efforts of his consciousness can man be delivered from sins, errors and superstitions which deprive him of happiness. 2. The Kingdom of God is taken by effort. The Kingdom of God is within you (L uke, XVI, 16; XVII, 21). These two sayings of the Gospel signify that only by effort of the consciousness within himself can man overcome the sins, errors and superstitions which would retard the coming of the Kingdom of God. 3. Here on earth there can be, there must be, no rest, because life is progress towards a goal that cannot be reached. Rest is immoral. I cannot say what this goal is. But whatever it be, we are moving toward it. Without this progress life would be folly and delusion. And we move toward this goal only by our own efforts.
